2012 Indiana State Game of Logging Competition & Logger Extravaganza

Friday & Saturday, September 21 & 22, 2012

Phil Etienne's Timber Harvest, St. Croix, Indiana

You are Cordially Invited to Compete!

For those who have completed the Game of Logging Professional Timber Cutting Classes (Phases I-IV), you are eligible to compete in this annual, fun event. Indiana's best loggers will come together on Friday & Saturday, September 21-22 and compete for a grand prize of $1,000, or the second prize of a chain saw. The winner will also qualify to compete in the National GOL competition during the Paul Bunyan show on October 5-6, 2012. The competition will start at 1 p.m. Central time on Friday and will include all events except the tree felling which will start at 11 a.m. Central time on Saturday.

This is the time to show your skills, so enter now! If you'd like to compete, we request you complete and return the form below and fax or mail back to the IHLA Forestry Council by Monday, September 17. If you miss the September 17th date, please feel free to still attend and RSVP to Joann Etienne at 812-843-5208 one day in advance so plans can be made accordingly.

Additionally, a day of fun for everyone is planned for Saturday! Anyone can participate in events starting at 8 a.m. Central time on Saturday such as Knuckle Boom, Skidder and Chain saw Racing. A barbeque lunch will be offered at noon. Please bring lawn chairs and drinks.
